Prices continued to ease across all types at today's South Island Wool sale. Overseas markets continue to be quiet and with a strengthening currency and continued shipping issues to move wool, exporters are very cautious with any wool they are currently purchasing. One buyer dominated the market purchasing 1200 bales with the balance of the 12 Exporters purchasing between 100 bales to 600 bales each of the 7000 bale offering, which indicated the conservative approach being taken.
