Prices continued to ease at today's South Island Wool Sale. A high percentage of lambs wool and reoffered wool struggled to find a market level. Good crossbred second shear wool also disappointed with all lengths up to 20 cents clean cheaper. Longer pre lamb crossbred types were in demand but the selection was very limited. A small offering of Mid Micron wool saw these types struggle with exporters very selective. The high passing rate for the day showed how subdued the market currently is. Overseas markets continue to be quiet although China is beginning to open up but we are continuing to see limited inquiry from them.
